THE BOKE FOR A IVSTICE OF PEACE, THE BOKE THAT TEACHETH TO KEPE

a courte baron, or a lete. ¶The boke teaching to kepe a courte hundred. ¶The boke called Returna breuium. ¶The boke called Carta feodi, conteyning the forme of dedes, releasses, indentures, obligations, acquytaunces, letters of atturney, letters of permutation, testamentes, and other thynges. ¶The boke of thordynance to be obserued by the officers of the kynges Escheker, for fees takynge. A boke conteynynge those statutes at lengthe, whych Iustices of peace, mayres, sheryffes, baylyffes, constables, and other offycers, were of late commaunded by the kynges maiestie, to put in execution.

TO THE REDER.

THIS BOKE of Justyce of peace is amended nowe at this imprintyng, as in the allegation of the yeres of statutes, and the chappyters of the same. And farthermore many statutes that in dyuers cases charge the sayd Justyces of peace, be added to, that were neuer before printed in the sayd boke, one cause is for many of them haue ben enacted, sythe the tyme that the same booke was fyrst compyled: whiche was a very good acte, for lyghtly there is nothing belongynge to a Justice of the peace to do, as concernyngr the processe of their sessions, to make warrantes, supersedias enditementes of haut treason, petye treason, felonies, appeales, tresspasses vpon statutes, and contra Regis pacem, but it is conteyned in this lytell booke.

¶ What men shulde be Justices of the peace, theyr auctoritie and power, the forme of their charges, and whereof they may enquire, drawen out of statutes, and the cōmon lawes.

In euery coūty good men and laufull, that ben no mayntey- ners of yuel, nor barrettours in the countrey, shall be assyg- ned to be Justices of the peace The statute thereof is Anno primo Edward. 3. statuto. 2. Capitulo. 16.

¶ Good men and laufull shall be assigned in euery shyre to kepe the peace, and at the tyme of the assignementes mencion shall be made, that suche as shall be endited or taken by the sayde kepers of the peace, shall not be let to maynprise by the shyreffes, nor by none other mynysters, if they be not maynparnable by the lawe. Anno. 4. E. 3. cap. 2.

¶ Two or thre of the most substantiall men of the shyre, shall be assygned kepers of the peace by the kynges cōmission, and they with other lerned in the lawe, shall here and deter- myne felonies and trespasses committed and done agaynste the peace, and doo reasonable punyshement, accordyng to lawe and reason. Anno. 18. E. 3. cap. 2.

¶ Justyces of the peace shal hold their sessi- ons. iiii. tymes in the yere at lest, that is to say at the feast of the Annunciation of our Lady saynt Margaret, saynt Michael, and saynt Nicholas, and more often, as shalbe thought requisite by the dyscretion of the saide Justyces. Statutū de seruientibus. Anno.25.E.3. cap.vlt. Et an.36.E.3. cap.12.

¶ In euery coūtie shalbe assigned a lord, and thre or four of the most substācial of the shire with somme lerned in the lawe, for the sauegard of the peace, and they haue power to enquere of mysdoers, ryottours, and other barratours, and them pursue, arreste, take, and chastise after their trespas, & to imprison and duely punishe them, according to the law and custome of the realme: and also to enquire of them that wander about, whiche wyl not labour as they were wont, and to take and arrest al those that they find culpable by enditement or suspecion, and to cōmyt them to pryson: and they that be suspecious, and not of good fame, to take suretie of their good aberynge before they goo out of prison. And also they may at the kynges suite here and determyne all felonyes and trespasses commytted within the same countie. Anno.34. Ed.3. Capitulo.1.

¶ In euery commyssion of the peace through the realme, where nede shall be, two men of lawe of the same countie, shall be assigned to goo and procede to the delyuerance of theues and felons, as often as they shal thynke it expedict, the statute therof is an.17. R.2. ca.vl.

¶ In euery commission of Justices of peace, there there shall be but. vi. Justyces assygned with the Justyces of assise: and that the sayde. vi. Justyces shall hold theyr sessions euery quarter of the yere at lest, and by thre days if nede be, on peyn to be punisshed, after the aduise of the kynges counsayle at the suite of any that wyl cõplayne. And they shall enquere of maires, stewardes, constables, and gaylours, yf they haue made dewe execution of the statute made for seruantes labourers and beggers, & shall punysshe the punysshable by the peyne of C.s. and they that be found fauty, and not punysshable by the same peyne, shalbe punysshed by their discretion. And euery of the sayd Justices shall take iiii.s. a day for theyr wages, for the tyme of their sayde sessions, and their clerke. ii.s. of the fynes and merciamentes risynge and commynge of the same sessions, by the handes of the shyreffes: And that the lordes of francheses shalbe contributours to the said wages after the rate of their pte of fines & amerciamentis aforsaid. An. 12. R. 2. Ca. 10.

¶ In euery countie shalbe assigned. viii. Justyces of peace, and their estreates shall be dowbled, and the one parte delyuered by the sayd Justyces to the sheryffe, to leuye the money risyng of the same sessiõs, and the sheriffe shall pay them their wages therof by Indenture. And that noo Duke, Erle, Baron, nor Baneret, all though they be assygned Justices of peace, and sytte in the sessions with the other. viii. shall take no wages. And that the Justyces putte their names in the estreytes, together wyth the nūber of the days of theyr sessions, to the intent the shyreffes may know to whom to paye wages. The statute therof is Anno.14.R.2.cap.11.

¶ No persone shall be assigned to be Justyce of the peace in no countie within the realme of Englande, except he haue landes or tenētes to the value of.xx.li.by yere, and if any be ordeyned hereafter Justyce of the peace in any countie, that hath not landes and tenementes to the value aforesayde, and doth not notifie the same to the chancellor of England for the tyme beinge, within a moneth after that he hath knowlege of the same commyssion, or if he sytte in the sessions or make any warraunt or precepte, by force of the same cōmission, he shal lose.xx.li.and yet neuer the lesse he shalbe put out of the commission, of whiche penaltie the kynge shal haue the one moytie, and he that wyl sue for the king, the other halfe, and shal haue an action to demāde the penaltie by a wrytte of dette at the cōmon lawe. Prouided that this extende not to suche cyties and borowes, that be coūties encorporate of them selfe, nor to cities, townes, and borowis, that haue Justyces of peace of the inhabitātes, by commission or graunt of the kyng or his progenitours. Prouided also, that if there be nat men sufficient, hauynge landes & tenementes to the value aforesaid, lerned in the lawe, and of good gouernāce, within any such countie, that other lerned in the lawe shalbe made Justyces of the peace, by the dyscretion of the Chauncellour of Englande, for the tyme beinge, though they haue no landes to suche value. Anno.18.H.6.cap.11.

¶ Iustyces of peace shalbe sworne, duly and without fauour to kepe and put in execution al the statutes and ordinances touching their offyces. Anno.13.R.2. cap.7.

¶ If any man enter into landes and tenites, and kepe them with force, the Iustice of peas (after they be cōplayned vnto) shal take with them the power of the shyre, & go to the place where entre was made with force, and if they fynde any, that holdeth suche place forciblye, the Iustyce shall commytte them to the nexte gaole, there to abyde as conuycte by the Recorde of the same Iustyces, or Iustyce, vnto the tyme they haue made fyne and raunsome to the kyng, and that all the shire, as well the shyreffe as other, shall be attendaunt to the sayd Iustyces of peace, to go and strength the sayde Iustyces, to arreste mysdoers, on peyne of enprisonmēt, and to make fine to the king. And the same lawe and reason is for entrees into benefyces and offyces of the churche; the statute is Anno.15.R.2.Cap.2. — Forcible entree.

¶ It is agreed, that the statute of Anno.15. R.2. of forcible entre, shalbe holdē in al pointes. And bycause the sayde statute extendeth not to entrees into tenemētis in peasible maner, & after kept with force, or if those persons that entred by force, be voyded & gone, before the Iustyces of the peace come, it is agreed, that yf any make suche forcyble entree into — Statute of forcible entree.

landes or tenementes, or kepe them forcibly, that after complaynt made to the Justyces of peace, they and euery of them haue power to enquere thereof in conuenient place by theyr discretion, at the costes of the parties greued, and the persones that made suche forcible entres, shalbe presented or voyded. And the said Justyces of peace shal make theyr warrantis & preceptes, directed to the shireffe of the same shire. &c. to do come before them sufficient and indifferēt persons, that dwel nerest to the said tenementes, to enquere of suche entrees, and euery one that shalbe so enpanelled before the sayde Justyces, shall haue landes and tenementes to the value of .xl.s. by the yere aboue the chargis. And the shireff shal returne issues vpon euery of them, the fyrst daye of returne of the p̄cept .xx.s. the .ii. day .xl.s. the .iii. C.s. & at euery day after double. And yf the shireffe or baylyff of franches, hauyng returne of the kynges wrytte, be slacke, & make not execution of the sayd p̄ceptes, he shall lose for euery defaute .xx.li. and make fyne to the kyng: and as well Justyces of peace, as Justyces of ass. haue power to here & determine such defautes & negligences of the said shireffes & bailiffes, as well by byll at the suite of the partie, as by enditement taken for the kynge onely. And if the shireffe or bayliffe be duely atteint in this behalfe by enditement or byll, he that wyl sue for hym selfe and the kyng, shal haue the half of the forfayture of .xx.li. with his costes and expences. And that suche proces shall be made against agaynst them as in an action of trespas with force. An. 8. H. 6. Cap. 9.

¶ where any ryot rout or assemble of people is had ayenst the lawe, two or thre of the Justyces of the peace, and the sheryffe or vnder sheryffe shall take suche power of the shire, as shall be nede to arrest them, and the same Justices, shirefe, & vndersheriffe shal haue power to recorde the matter, as they fynd it, and the persones beynge yll doers, shall be conuict by theyr recorde. And if it happen the same yl doers to be departed before the Justices, sheriffe, and vndersheriffe come: thã they shal enquire therof within a moneth imediatly after suche riote, assemble, or route of the people so done, and they shall here & determyne it accordynge to the lawe of the lande: and if the verdite be not founde within a moneth, they shall certifie the kynge or his counsel of all the circũstãces within a moneth, whiche certificat shalbe of the same effecte, as though it had be found by twelue men. And if any misdoers wyl trauers the matter, than the certificat and the trauers shall be sent into the kynges benche & there to be tried. And the Just. of peace, dwellyng most nere in any countie, where any suche ryot of people shall be hereafter, together with the shireffe or vndershireffe of the same countie, and also the Justices of assise for the tyme that they shall be there in theyr sessions, in case that any suche ryote assemble or route, shall be made in their presence, shall doo execution of the sayde statute, eche on peyne to pay. C.li. to the king, as oft as they shal faute to execute the same stat. An. 13. H. 4. Ca. ulti.

¶ Justices of the peace in euery shire, in two of their sessions, holden betwene Easter and Michelmas, shall make proclamation by theyr discretion, after the derthe of vytailes, howe moche a mason, a carpenter, a tiler, and other craftes men workmē & laborers shall take by the day, as well in August as in other tymes of the yere, with meate and drynke, or without meate and drynke, betwene the two sessions aforesayde. And that euerye man obeye these proclamations, from tyme to tyme, as a thynge made by statute. And al vitailers shal take theyr wynninge after the discretion and limitation of the said Justices of the peas, on peyne to be greuously punished after the discretion of the said Justices of peas, where no peyn afore time hath ben limitted on the sayd vitailers. An. 13. R. 2. Ca. 8.

Fugitiue laborers.

¶ Justices of the peace haue power to sende theyr writes for fugitiue laborers, to eche shireffe of the royalme of England, and to make such proces, as the statute requireth, to bring them before them, to answere to our souerain lorde the kynge, and to the parties, of the cō-temptes and trespasses done contrary to thordinances and statutes in that behalfe prouyded, in lyke maner as the sayd Justices haue power to send to any shireffe for theues endited before them. And also that all the statutes and ordinances of laborers, seruantes, & artificers made in tyme past and not repelled, be exemplified vnder the great seale, and sent to euery shireffe of the realme of England, to proclayme them in ful countie, and after this proclamation so made, the sheryffe shal cause the same exẽplificatiõ, to him directed, to be delyuered to the Justices of the peace, or to one of them, to remayn with the same Justices, that be or shalbe, for the better puttyng of the statutes and ordinances in execution. And that Justyces of peace in euery countie named of the Quorum, be reseant within the same coũtie, excepte lordes named in the commyssion, and also except Justyces of the one bench and of the other, the chiefe baron of the escheker, sergeantes at the lawe, and the kinges atturney, for the tyme that they shalbe attendynge and occupied in the kynges courtes: or other wyse enbused in the kynges seruyce, and shall hold their sessions.iiii. tymes in the yere, that is to say, in the fyrst weeke after the feaste of saint Michel, the first weke after the Epiphany, the fyrst weke after the clausum Pasche, and the fyrst weke after saynt Thomas daye the martyre, and oftener, if necessitie require. And Justices of the peace haue power to exampne all labourers, artificers, and seruantes by theyr othes, of thynges by them done contrary to the ordynaunce and statutes, and to punyshe them therupon, as well as vpon enquest. An. 2. H 5. ca. 4. et an. 34. E. 3 cap. 10.

¶ Plees, suytes, and proces commensed before Justyces of the peace, shal not be discontinued by new commissions of peace made to other

other Justyces, but those plees and processes shall stande in their strengthe. And the Justices in the same newe commission so assigned, after that they haue the recordes of the sayde plees & processe afore them, shal haue power & auctoritie to contynue the sayd plees and processes, and the same and al other depending to here & fynally determyne, in like maner as the other iustices mought & ought to haue done, if no new cōmiss. had ben made. an. 11. H. 6. ca. 6.

¶ Justyces of peace haue power to enquire, here, and determyne, in case yf men of wales by daye or by nyghte come into the shyres of Herforde, Shrewesbury, Glocester, and other shyres adioynynge, and take men with them, and kepe them in wales in the mountaynes, vnto the tyme that they haue payde certayne sommes of money. And if the sayde mysdoers wyl not appere, vntyl the tyme that they be outlawed, than shall the same Justyces write letters vnto the officers of the seignories, where such mysdoers dwel, of the outlagary vpon them pronounced, and the same officers vpon that certificatiō, to take the bodyes of those outlawes, and do executiō vpon them in the same seignorie, as the lawe requireth in that case, without fyne or raunsom in this behalf to be made, stat. 2. an. 2. ¶ The fourme and maner of the Justices of peace charge.

YE shal enquire of heretikes and lollardes, and suche as kepe erronious oppynions, teache and preche the same contrary to the fayth & lawes of the church, or kepe any scoles therof, in hurte and preiudice of the fayth, ye shall doo vs to wete of theyr names, and of their opinions, & how longe they haue continued therin. Vide statutũ an. 2. H. 5. Cap. 7. Heretikes & lollardes

¶ Two Justices of peace of the shire, where it shal happen any person or persons to be accused, presented, or indited of heresye, may by their discretions, in defaut of the ordynaries, lette suche person or persons to bayle, by .iiii. sufficient sureties, bounde to the kynges use, by oblygation or recognysance, to appere before the ordynaries at suche days, tymes, and places, as shall be lymitted in the sayde bondes, by the sayde two Justices, excepte the ordinaries canne and do declare to the kynges hyghnesse, and to his counsayle, a reasonable cause, that the sayd person or persons accused or presented of heresie, shoulde not be lette to Heresye.

bayle. An.25. H.8. Cap.14.

Markets in churche yardes.

Also ye shall enquere of all them that kepe any fayres or markettes, in churche yarde or in any other holy place, where any sekyng is: and howe longe they haue continued therin, the statute therof is of Edwarde the thyrde made at wynchester. And also in the statute made at wynchester, the.13. yere of E.1. it was defended, that feyers shulde no more be kepte in churcheyardes.

Cousterfaityng of coyns.

Ye shall enquere of them that counterfeyt the kynges coyne, or if there be any false money and payment made therwith. And of the that brynge false money into this realme, or that counterfait the coyn of an other realme, whiche by the kynges sufferaunce is currant within this realme, ye shall doo vs to wete. And of them that clyppe, washe, fyle, or other wyse falsifie the money of this realme: And this semeth to be hyghe treasone, for the statute sayth, that he is a traytour to the kynge and his realme, Anno. 3. H. 5. statuto scdo. Capit.6.et.7.

Galy halfpens.

And the same.iii.yere of the sayd kynge, it was ordeyned, that galyhalfpens, sockyns, dodkyns, and all money of Scotland shulde be all put out, and who that maketh, byeth, coyneth or bryngeth into this realme, galyhalfpens, sockyns, and dodkyns, shall be punysshed as a felon, and he that taketh or payeth suche money, shall lose an C.s. wherof the kynge shall haue the oone halfe, and he that wylle sewe, the other halfe. And that Justy-tes of peace in euerye shyre of this realme, haue power to inquire therof, to here and determyne the same.

¶ Also of theym that slee theyr mayster, that is for to say, theyr soueraygne, as monke his abbotte or pryour, wyfe her husbande, seruaunt his mayster, or any, vnder whose obeisaunce he is: the cause is, the mayster hath to hym more truste than to a stranger. Vide statutum inde Anno.25. E.3.cap.2. Of suche as sle their soueraygne.

¶ Also Justyces of peace haue ful power and auctoritie in their sessions to enquire of trayterous murderers & murders of poysonynge as well as of the counterfeytyng of coyne of any outwarde royalme, suffred to runne and go within this realme by the kynges assente, and to make proces therypō by capias only: for poysonnynge is adiudged and demed as high treason by acte of parlyament made Anno.22. H.8.cap.9. Poysonnynge.

¶ Also ye shal enquire, if any man be slayne or murdered by the day, whether the murderer be taken by the townshyp, where the deth or mourder was doone, for yf he be not, the townshyp shalbe amerced. An.3.H.7.cap.1.

¶ Also ye shall enquire of all them, that caste any bylles into any mans house, in the whyche bylles is conteyned, that if the same person brynge not a certayne somme of money, or lay it a certayn place and howre, his house shalbe brent, and the money be not there layd, the howse is brent, this is high treason, The statute therof is An. 8, H.6.cap.6, Threttes to brēne a mās hous

Murder & mãslaughter.

¶ Also ye shal enquire of all mañ of felonies, bycause some of them ben more heynous thã some, as murder and manslaughter. Murder is properly, where a man by malice prepensed lyeth in awayte to slee a man, and accordyng to that malicious intẽt and purpose, he sleeth hym, so that he, whiche is slayne, maketh noo defence ayenste hym, for yf he doo, it is manslaughter, and no murder, the offence of this murder is more heynous than the offence of other felonies: for if the kynge graunt hym a pdon of al maner of felonies, it auayleth him noughte for mourder, but yf it make expresse mencion of murders. And the statute therof is, anno. 13. R. 2. Cap. 1.

Chaunce medley.

¶ And manslaughter is, where two men or mo mete, and by chaunce medley they fall at affray, so that one them sleeth an nother, it is but felonye in hym selfe, and therfore yf any person be defectiue in this wise, make your presentment accordyng. vts.

Rape.

¶ Also ye shal ẽquire of rape. Rape is where a man rauyssheth or taketh a mans wyfe, wydowe or mayde ayenst her wylle, and hath to do with her ayenst her wyl, albeit that she assent afterward, yet it is felony, and without the kynges chapiter make mencion of rape, it auayleth hym nought. The statute therof is westm. 2. Cap. 34.

Robberie.

¶ There be alsoo felons, that contryue takynge away of mens goodes, as by robberye and thefte. Robbery is where a man lyeth by the kynges hygh waye to market townes, in woddes, dyches, or in any other secrete pla-ces, where people come forth by, and robbeth them, albeit that he taketh away but the value of a peny, or lesse, it is felony, for the malapertnes of the dede, and ieoperdye that a man is in of his lyfe, where it so taken away from his person, causeth the offēce to be greater, than if it had ben theuyshly stollen.

Thefte. ¶Thefte is, where a thefe stealeth a mannes goodes in his chamber or in his close, or any other place, if the value passe .xiii.d. it is felony, and if it be not passynge the value of .xii. d. it is but petite larcenye, or brybery: for the whiche he shal not dye, but make a fyne to the kyng: but yf it can be found at diuers tymes, that he hath taken goodes of that value and more, than he shall dye therfore.

Burgularye. ¶Also if there be any man, that burneth his neyghbours howse malyciously by day or by nyght, it is felony. Also of theym that breake howses by nyghte, to the intente to robbe, thoughe they take nothynge away, it is burgulary, whiche in it selfe is felonye, bycause the lawe gyueth no colour to breake a mans howse by nyghte.

Clerkes conuicted. ¶Clerkes conuicte of pety treason, wylfulle murder, or robberies done by or nere the high way. &c. shall make no purgation, except they do fynde .ii. sufficient sureties, euery of theym hauynge landes, or other hereditamentes, of charterholde of enheritance to the yerely value of .xxvi.s. viii.d. or els be worthe .xx.li. in mouable substance, eche of them to be bounde in.xx. li. and him self in.xl.li. by recognysance before.ii. Justyces of peace, within the same shyre, where suche offences were commytted, wherof one of them to be of the Quorū, that such cōunyctes shalbe of good aberyng, which Justyces shal certifie euery such recognisance into the kynges benche within.iiii. monethes next after the takynge therof, vppon peyn of C.s. for euery defaute. Anno.23.H.8.cap 1.

Gaylour. ¶ Also yf any gayler, sheryffe, or other persone, that hath the kepynge of any gayle, by to great duresse of imprisonmēt, and by peyn, make any prisoner that he hath in his ward, become an appellour ayenste his wylle, and therof be atteynted before the kynges Justices, he shall haue iugemēt of lyfe and of member. Anno.14.E.3. cap.10.

¶ Justyces of peace shall not imprison men, but in the common gayle, sauyng to al them, that haue gayles, their lybertie. Anno.5.Hen.4.Capit.10.

Making & mēding of gayles. ¶ The Justices of the peas or the most parte of them, in euery of the shires of Essex, Suffolke, Dors. Sussex, Surrey, Notyngham, Glouc. Bedford, Buck. Huntyngdon, wylsh. Kente, warwyke, Stafford, Oxeñ, Barkes.
